Why I am a member and why I hope you will join

Demetrius Porche: "The American Assembly For Men In Nursing serves the nursing profession as the leader and voice for men in nursing."

Bill Lecher: "I am a member of AAMN because I am very satisfied with nursing as a career. I am interested in helping other men consider nursing as a career and supporting men to continue their career development in nursing. I hope you will consider joining with us."

Bridget Nettleton: "This organization provides a forum for men and women to promote the profession of nursing to men. Men in nursing has a long legacy of providing quality nursing care throughout the ages - from before the Crusades, now, and into the future. AAMN values and recognizes these important contributions and provides support and mentoring to men in nursing. Join us in making our profession stronger by increasing our "men in nursing" presence - start your membership today."

Ryan Lewis: "As a member of AAMN, I have the opportunity to be a voice. Being an active participant and voice allows me to grow and mature along with other men in nursing, many of which serve as great role models and mentors. Joining together, we can make a difference in the future direction of nursing practice and redefine the significance and value men bring to the profession."
